

CROWN HILL FUND ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENT OF JARISLOWSKY, FRASER AS INVESTMENT MANAGER

Storied investment manager to manage the fund with a focus on generating income for unitholders

TORONTO, July 20, 2009 /CNW/ - Crown Hill Capital Corporation, the manager of Crown Hill Fund (the "Fund") (TSX: MYT.UN), is pleased to announce that Jarislowsky, Fraser Limited ("Jarislowsky"), Canada's largest independent investment counsel firm, has been appointed as investment manager of the Fund, effective today. The portfolio of the Fund will be managed, as per Jarislowsky's long-standing practice, on a conservative basis, with a focus on generating income for unitholders.

"We are extremely pleased with the appointment of Jarislowsky Fraser as Crown Hill's investment manager," said Mr. Wayne Pushka, President of Crown Hill Capital Corporation. "As one of Canada's most respected investment managers with a singular commitment to long term growth, minimal risk and low fees, Jarislowsky is aligned with Crown Hill's long-term strategy for the Fund."

Jarislowsky is an organization that caters to the needs of many of the country's most discriminating high net worth individuals, endowments and institutions. It is a registered investment counseling firm, managing pension funds, endowment funds and corporate and private portfolios for clients in North America and overseas. The company was founded in 1955 as an investment research firm. In the early 1960s, the firm began to use this research material to counsel private investors and, in 1966, extended its client base to include pension funds.

For more than half a century since its founding, the firm has held a leading position in the field of investment management. With offices located in Montreal, Toronto, Calgary and Vancouver, the firm manages investment funds on behalf of governments, corporations, universities, labour unions and individuals with assets exceeding $40 billion Canadian dollars. Jarislowsky has had very strong long term performance with much less volatility than most of its peers and the markets.

The firm's primary objective is the growth of its clients' capital through conservative, low-risk investment in high-quality securities, selected through stringent fundamental analysis. This approach has produced consistent results through changing economic environments.

The firm is known for defending shareholder rights and is actively committed to promoting strong corporate governance, as well as exercising influence to ensure that shareholders' interests are at the forefront of corporate actions.

/For further information: Crown Hill Capital Corporation, Tel: (416) 361-1212/